The Workbook and Lab Manual consists of a variety of activity types including the "Pratica," which contains written exercises on grammar and lexical structures as well as culturally oriented content that directly complements, chapter by chapter, the material included in the textbook. Additionally, the "Comprensione" sections provide a variety of listening comprehension activities and exercise sequences that reinforce the material in both the text and workbook. The exercises in the Workbook and Lab Manual not only stress writing skills and reinforce structures and vocabulary learned in the classroom but they also encourage ongoing self-instruction outside the classroom.
